Dr. Condoleezza Rice to Speak at Fall Conference

Alexandria, VA (May 25, 2018) — Dr. Condoleezza Rice, U.S. Secretary of State (2005-2009) will be a speaker at the Fall Senior Management Conference. Dr. Rice's presentation is set for Tuesday morning, October 2.

Dr. Rice is currently the Denning Professor in Global Business and the Economy at the Stanford Graduate School of Business, the Thomas and Barbara Stephenson Senior Fellow on Public Policy at the Hoover Institution, and a professor of Political Science at Stanford University. She is also a founding partner of RiceHadleyGates, LLC.

From January 2005 to 2009, Dr. Rice served as the 66th Secretary of State of the United States, the second woman and first African American woman to hold the post. Rice also served as President George W. Bush's Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs (National Security Advisor) from January 2001 to 2005, the first woman to hold the position.

From 1989 through March 1991, Dr. Rice served on President George H.W. Bush's National Security Council staff.

Dr. Rice also served as Stanford University's Provost from 1993-1999, during which she was the institution's chief budget and academic officer, overseeing a $1.5 Billion annual budget and the academic program involving 1,400 faculty members and 14,000 students.

As professor of Political Science, Dr. Rice has been on the Stanford faculty since 1981 and has won two of the highest teaching honors – the 1984 Walter J. Gores Award for Excellence in Teaching and the 1993 School of Humanities and Sciences Dean's Award for Distinguished Teaching.

In addition, Dr. Rice has authored and coauthored numerous books, including three bestsellers, Democracy: Stories from the Long Road to Freedom (2017); No Higher Honor: A Memoir of My Years in Washington (2011); and Extraordinary, Ordinary People: A Memoir of Family (2010).
